

International Soccer Tours

From the United Kingdom to Italy or Spain, Éducatoours by WorldStrides will take you there. Wherever you want to go, whatever style of play you want to experience, we navigate the entire landscape of the trip so you can focus on what you do best—preparing your team for a unique experience of a lifetime.

What we bring to the field

- Our vast network of contacts enables us to put together the best matches, top training sessions and access to professional games, facilities, and UEFA professional coaches.
- We align your team with opponents who put your team's skills to the test and raise the profile of your entire soccer organization.
- We curate your time off the field including sightseeing and engaging activities.
- We provide a holistic development environment for young athletes, on and off the field.

“This experience allowed me to deepen my technical knowledge and discover innovative teaching methods to boost player engagement and development. What struck me the most was the direct impact of the players. From the first session, their enthusiasm grew. They were exposed to stimulating exercises, technical challenges suited to their level, and above all, a motivating and inclusive atmosphere. Many told me that they felt more confident, more inspired, and had rediscovered the joy of playing while learning.”
